Note to Parents

Manage your child's screen time by creating a family media plan

Digital devices are an important part of our world—and can be very appealing to kids. Technology helps your child discover new ideas, connect with others and access educational information for school.

However, too much recreational screen time can negatively affect his schoolwork, health, activity levels and face-to-face communication skills.

To help your child strike a healthy balance, experts recommend creating a personalized family media plan that answers the following questions:

- What devices do I want my child to have access to?
- Where will devices be allowed and where will they be off-limits?
- How much time will my child be allowed to use them?
- Will the same rules apply during weekends and school breaks?
- What content is appropriate for my child to access?
- How will I maintain consistency?
- What consequences will there be for misusing devices?
- What example am I setting through my own use of technology?

Are you helping your child resist peer pressure?

Peer influence is strong in the middle school years. Are you doing all you can to help your child combat negative peer pressure? Answer yes or no to the questions below to find out:

1. Have you talked with your child about doing the right thing rather than the easy thing?
2. Do you suggest ways your child can say no to things he knows are wrong? He could say, "I'm not interested" and walk away.
3. Do you talk to your child about how most kids his age feel pressured to fit in, too?
4. Do you make your family rules clear to your child? Do you emphasize that he can talk to you when he feels pressured to break them?
5. Do you encourage your child to think about consequences? "If you skip school with your friends, what might happen as a result?"

How well are you doing?

If most of your answers were yes, you are helping your child resist negative peer pressure. For no answers, try those ideas.

Coaching can help your high schooler make better decisions

Ever watch how a coach teaches an athlete a new skill? Generally, the coach breaks the skill down into smaller parts, then lets the athlete practice them until the skill is mastered.

This same approach works for teaching teens how to make better decisions. Coach your teen to:

1. Discuss the issue. What is it your teen needs to do or decide? What does she already know about this issue?
2. Gather information. If your teen has to make a decision about a situation she's never faced before, tell her to avoid making a choice until she has as much information as possible.
3. List all the alternatives. Not all decisions are either-or choices. There may be many possibilities.
4. Think about consequences. Have your teen write one choice at the top of a piece of paper, then draw a line down the middle. On the left side of the paper, she should write the positive consequences from that decision. She should write negative consequences on the right side.
5. Consider feelings and values. Sometimes, the best decision on paper may not feel right. Teens need to think about their family's values as they make a choice.
6. Choose the best course of action. Although it's hard to let go of this part of the decision-making process, it's the most important step to turn over to your teen. If your teen makes a wise choice, praise her. If she makes a poor choice, help her see how she can make a better one next time.

Library Corner

The Friends of the Ten Sleep Library are now excepting items for their Harvest Dinner Raffle. Every year the Friends ask for you to donate new gift and crafted items for the raffle and live auction held during the wonderful Harvest Dinner. The dinner and the raffle will be held on October 19th. Items are beginning to roll into the library for display as we prepare for this annual event. The Friends support the library by buying books and magazines, hosting programs, lending a hand, buying furniture and more. The Friends meet every third Wednesday of the month with a carry in luncheon. Drop in and join the fun.

In conjunction with Sheridan College and Wyoming Humanities' multi-year National Endowment for the Humanities grant, "Creating Humanities Communities along the Hemingway Highway", the Wyoming State Library and Wyoming Humanities have selected Hemingway's first short story collection, In Our Time (1925), as 2019's One Book Wyoming. The Washakie County Library System will be participating in this by hosting a book discussion to be held October 22 in the Washakie County Library and October 23 in the Ten Sleep Branch and you are welcome to attend one or both discussions. Both programs begin at 6:30pm and the book discussion leader will be Vicky Gopp. If you are interested in participating in this book discussion please stop in the library and pick up a copy of the book and sign up for the discussion.

Celebrate Wyoming Libraries Snapshot Day! On this day all Wyoming Libraries collect photos, videos and comments that show the value libraries have to offer in their communities every single day. The Ten Sleep Library will be participating again this year so stop by on October 8th and we will take your picture and collect comments to share with the rest of Wyoming.

The Library is open Monday through Friday 8am-5pm, and Saturday 9am-1pm. If you would like to learn more about the benefits of your library card and how to renew your books and other materials online from home, stop in for one on one instruction. We will be closed October 12th and 14th for Columbus Day.

Quips from the Activities Director:

Volleyball for middle school and high school is in full swing. Mark your calendar as the last home matches are October 1st and 8th for the middle school. Both of these will start at 4:30. High School Senior night will take place on October 19th at 5:00pm.

FFA is practicing and getting ready for their upcoming competitions taking place later this fall. The week of October 28th will see Payton Casteel and Kinley Anderson competing at Nationals in Indianapolis. Other students will be attending as well. A former student, Cory Rice will also be attending to receive the highest honor that is awarded by FFA.

On October 12th, Ten Sleep will be hosting the Middle School Volleyball B-team tournament. The A-team tournament will be in Meeteetse. We will have a very brief time to catch our breath as middle school volleyball draws to close and middle school girls basketball gets underway with the first practice on October 21st.

Mrs. Decker has started up a Drama Club and the casting has been done. There are even some surprise actors. This production will be taking place in November so keep your eyes open for ticket sales coming soon.

We also want to give a shout out to our students who are participating in activities in Worland. Shelbie and Kayli Jackson are on the cheer squads with Kiyoshi Smith, Lindsey Holiday, Elizabeth Lungren and Boe Nichols are running cross country while Liam Adams is playing in the marching band.

If you haven't seen the redesign of the gym floor, please stop by. I think you will be pleased. We have also hung some state banners. Yes, we are missing a few, but we will get that fixed soon. I know many of you have been here to watch our student-athletes. Thank you for coming and we hope to see you time and time again. If you get a chance let our students know how much you appreciate what they do for our community, because we certainly appreciate your support.

Flu Shot Clinic in Ten Sleep October 7

Goodbye summer. Welcome fall! It's that time of year again, when the air is cooler, days are shorter and the autumn colors are blooming. Unfortunately it's also the start of the flu season. Protect yourself and your loved ones from the flu this season by getting your annual flu shot. According to the CDC, getting an annual flu vaccine is the first and best way to protect yourself and your family from the flu. They also report that, "You should get a flu vaccine before flu begins spreading in your community. It takes about two weeks after vaccination for antibodies that protect against flu to develop in the body, so make plans to get vaccinated early in fall, before flu season begins. CDC recommends that people get a flu vaccine by the end of October. Washakie County Public Health will be offering Flu shots at the Ten Sleep Senior Center on Monday, October 7th from 10:00 am-1:00 pm. See the attached flier for more info from Washakie County Public Health.

Teton Science Service Project

October Counseling News

Welcome back to another fantastic year at Ten Sleep Schools. This is a location where counseling news, important dates and information, classroom news, guides and resources for parents, and much more can be found monthly.

The current topics being reviewed in grades kindergarten -6th grade are:

KG: Manners, Rules, and using our tools (listening skills, following directions, etc...) to be successful students.

Grades 1/2: Tools for success (listening...), and tattling vs. reporting

Grade 3: Choices- making good choices, consequences, teamwork

Grades 4/5: Decision making- How our choices affect others and what is our decision based on

Grade 6: creating SMART goals pertaining to character building and how to be successful in school

News:

There was a college planning presentation brought to our school by the TRIO program and some ladies from NWC and UW presented on college information and planning for the future. This event took place on September 9.

The seniors will attend FAFSA night on October 8 from 4-6 with their parents. This is an opportunity for college bound students to apply for financial aid with the assistance of a trained FAFSA professional.

Grades 9-12 have received letters home with information about what to expect for their student in the upcoming year.

Students attended the University of Wyoming Campus Pass event on September 14, which included college information for planning for the future, tours, and a free football game. We went to Laramie and back in one LONG day!

Thoughts about helping your student have success at school:

*As a parent, project a positive attitude about school, teachers, activities, homework and class expectations. If a child feels your frustration, it gives them the excuse to not perform and then they lack respect for the teacher/event/activity.

*Establish home routines. Research highly supports the idea of consistency and predictability which help a child feel safe.

*Don't over focus on grades. This creates the foundation for an overly competitive student. It also puts the parent in a position of judgement.

*Homework is your child's responsibility. Promote good habits (and a routine) early. Rescuing a child from their classroom expectations fosters negative energy that in turn gives a student the "permission" to disrespect a teacher's/activities - expectations/assignments/lessons; also de-valuing their work/event/activity/assignment.

*Establish family rules for TV, computer, or video game use. Research can support that some electronic devices are addictive.

*Put your phone down and tune in to your child. The messages we send to our children carry with them throughout their lives. Time is all a child really wants.

*Avoid overly involving your child in EVERY activity. Find a balance. Exposing your child to different sports/activities is great, just perhaps one at a time.

Pioneer Pride Club

Pioneer Pride is a club for 5-8th grade. Students meet weekly to discuss issues that teens face. It provides a safe platform to share opinions and ideas on how to create a better, safer community. We focus on prevention and safety as supported by the Washakie County Prevention Coalition.

We created posters that will be part of a video the state prevention organization will create to send out to legislatures and leaders in the state of Wyoming to get our voices heard.

Our ideas were: "Mandatory Sex Education" and "Stop the Stigma on Mental Health..."

Secret Service Club:

This is a community service focused club for grades KG-4. Students "sacrifice" their noon recess for meetings, activities, and discussions biweekly. Activities may occur on the weekends. This has been a huge success for our young students. We are working on some logistics and will have sign up forms out soon for students to bring home.

FOR Club (Friends of Rachel's)

This club stems from "Rachel's Challenge". It is for grades 7-12 that meet biweekly to work on spreading a culture of kindness throughout our school. If you attend our school, the "chain" of kindness can be seen which starts in the entry way of our school.

Need more information? Want to volunteer? Want to help? Contact the school to get involved today!!!!

The Ten Sleep Goblin Gallop will be held on October 17 at 5 pm. The event starts at the Ten Sleep Rodeo Grounds. This traditional event has partnered with a few clubs in school to provide a platform for a drug/alcohol/tobacco prevention campaign and health/safety/mental health information along with a community kindness movement: run/walk for a cause. There will be free chili served at the closing of the event. Free drinks, door prizes, and participation prizes will be available.

Tac*One

On October 15th the staff inservice will work with TAC*One consulting for a day of school safety training. The trainers will return on October 16th and spend time with our students. All trainings will be age appropriate for our K-12 students. Our older students will walk away with "life skills that will prepare them to make decisions without the presence of an adult at the mall, sporting events, lunch hours, movies, family vacations all while preparing them for higher education campuses and the workplace."

Parents, if you would like to attend any of the presentations on October 16th, please call the school office for times.

Halloween Costume Contest

Mountain View Assembly of God will host another Noah's Ark costume contest right after the Trunk or Treat festivities. At 6:00 PM, those wishing to enter the contest must come dressed as one of the following: Bible character, animal, fruit, vegetable, plant, glazy item...anything created within the Genesis account.
